Weatherford & Vail.

Death of Henry H. Christian.

The death of Henry H. Christian occurred last night at the Hotel Weatherford in this city. The deceased had been here but a few days, having spent the winter in Phoenix, and coming here in company with Dr. O'Connor last week. They came overland and had been enroute several weeks. His death was unexpected as he had been feeling quite well up to within a few days previous to his death, which resulted from heart failure.

The deceased was married, his wife having arrived here from the east last Monday. His home was at Minneapolis, Minn., to which place the body will be sent for burial.

Cheaper than St. Louis.

Saturday, July 1, was Trail Day at the Lewis and Clark fair and on that day the amusement street was formally opened to the public. There are thirty-five shows on the Trail, and it costs only about seven dollars to see them all. This is much cheaper than at St. Louis.

William W. Sawyer, of Washington, D. C., representing the bureau of the census, is in the city on business connected with that department of the government service.

C. H. Algert came in Saturday from New Mexico where he had been for about two months. He left again yesterday, accompanied by his wife and child, for Fruitland, N. M., where they will make their future home, Mr. Algert having made arrangements to engage in the merchandising business at that place.

Idaho's Lead Exhibit.

In the Idaho building at the Lewis and Clark fair there is a pyramid of nearly pure lead ore which weighs 60,000 pounds. A single specimen weighs 10,000 pounds. Idaho produces annually forty per cent of the lead mined in the United States, and twenty-seven per cent. of the world's supply.

Progressing Slowly.

The work of cleaning and repairing the pipe line of the water system, above the reservoir, is progressing slowly, we are informed by Superintendent Gielas. A force of nine men are at present engaged in the work. They have a cook with the outfit and are camped near their work.

Attempted Bank Robbery.

An attempt was made last Saturday night to rob the Apache County bank, at Concho, Arizona. Ambrosio Candalaria, who was sleeping in the rear room, heard the noise made by the robber in trying to raise a window. He went out and tackled the robber and got shot in the shoulder for his trouble. The robber escaped. A reward of $250 is offered for the arrest of the would-be burglar.
